I am a huge skeptic by nature, but several friends and family members kept telling me how great Chiropractic care is. When I started having pain in my hip and leg, I went to Cove Freedom, wanting relief, but not wanting to pay for unnecessary testing and steroids I was sure to get elsewhere. Dr. John is very caring and kind and explains thoroughly all of the processes and information. I was worried my limbs would be wrenched around, but that was not the case at all. After several months of care, my pain is virtually nonexistent and my range of motion has improved so much. I highly recommend Dr. John and the Cove Freedom Chiropractic team.

I hereby give my permission for all or any part of the above statements to be reproduced with or without my name and/or photograph, and to be used in the interest of telling others about the benefits of chiropractic care.
